United Kingdom. Short form of United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland or of earlier (1801-1922) United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland; see History at GREAT BRITAIN.

United Provinces. 1 officially United Provinces of A'gra and Oudh (ā'grā, ā'grā; oud) Province, N

Indian Union, including former Agra and Oudh provs.; 106,247 sq. m.; pop. (1941) 55,020,617; * Allahabad, summer * Naini Tal; contains two Indian states (Benares and Rampur, administered under Gwalior Residency), 1760 sq. m., pop. (1941) 928,470. Bounded on N and NE by Tibet and Nepal, on E by Bihar, on S and SW by Central India, and on W by Punjab. N part lies in the Himalayas (high peaks Nanda Devi, Trisul, Kedarnath) and the remainder, comprising most of its area, forms the plains of the Ganges and Jumna and their tributaries (Gogra, Gumti, Ramganga, Rapti, etc.), a region corresponding roughly to the Hindustan of the early Mohammedan period. Exceptionally fertile and populous; wheat, millet, rice, and other cereals are the chief crops, with some cotton, tobacco, and sugar. Population is chiefly Hindu and rural, but with following cities above 100,000: Cawnpore, Lucknow, Agra, Benares, Allahabad, Bareilly, Meerut, Moradabad. Area of present United Provinces, nearly all of the Gangetic basin, was the scene (with Delhi on the W and Patna on the E) of the greater part of Indian history. It was the country of the two great epics, the Mahabharata and Ramayana, of the rise of Buddhism, of Asoka's empire and the region ruled by the Guptas and Harsha, followed by the Moguls in the 16th cent. in which the city of Agra (q.v.) became a chief center. The British first came into the region (see OUDH) in the latter half of the 18th cent.; sovereignty of certain regions passed to them bet. 1798 and 1833, in which year province of Agra was formed out of Bengal; became 1835 the North-West Provinces, to which Oudh was annexed in 1856; placed under one administration 1877. United Provinces of Agra and Oudh formed 1902; placed under a governor 1921; since 1937 (by virtue of Government of India Act 1935), an autonomous government with a two-chamber legislature.

2 The seven provinces, Holland, Zealand, Utrecht, Friesland, Groningen, Overijssel, and Gelderland, which formed a union under the Treaty of Utrecht in 1579, that led to the establishment of the Dutch republic, or the Netherlands (q.v.).

UNITED STATES—DAMS AND RESERVOIRS

This Table includes the names of 40 important dams, with their location, year of first use, maximum height, purpose, and other facts when important. Some large dams, still uncompleted (1948) as Clearwater, John Martin, Santa Fe, Wolf Creek, are not included; nor are dams of the TENNESSEE VALLEY AUTHORITY, which are treated in a Table at that entry. Various other American dams, as well as the more important dams in foreign countries, are given individual vocabulary entries.

For a fuller description of these sounds, see GUIDE TO PRONUNCIATION.

c is used only in the combination ch; q, x are not used in the respelling for pronunciation. Foreign sounds for which no special symbols are provided are represented by the nearest English equivalents.

For the apostrophe as in Eton (ē't'n), Ypres (ē'pr'), see §§ 66, 66.1, 63.3 in the GUIDE TO PRONUNCIATION.

The principal accent is indicated by a heavy mark ('), and the secondary accent by a lighter mark (ˈ), at the end of the syllable. Foreign words of more than one syllable bearing no accent marks at the ends of syllables have approximately equal accent on all syllables. Syllabic division is indicated by a centered period, or an accent mark, or a hyphen used to join the members of words written or printed with a hyphen.

Equal-Area

Lambert's Azimuthal Equal-Area represents square mileage correctly, showing areas of continental size to best advantage.

Mollweide

An equal-area projection in ellipse form; scales along equator and parallels constant and equal; outer areas progressively distorted.

Mercator

Starts with central cylindrical projection; both meridians and parallels are straight lines and at true distance apart at equator.

Orthographic

Shows true scale in central area, viewed as if mapped from a very great height; distortions increase away from center in areas near edges.

PROJECTIONS

Sinusoidal

An equal-area projection; equator and central meridian are straight lines, parallels correct to scale; other meridians are curved lines.

Polyconic

Based on conic projection with its central meridian a straight line and latitude circles marked on it true to scale.
